AALIANA

Last night I dreamed I laid an egg.

MAX P.

Three eggs.

NICOLE

I hear my babies' eggs hatching.

SILAS

Crack.

DAVID

Oh no!

AALIANA

Let's celebrate.

ALL

Ca ca ca!

RYAN

It hatches. Then it's a little fuzzy chick.

MELODY

He doesn't have a name, then his mother gives him a name and a last name.

NICOLE H.

Last night I dreamed I was a mother bird. My kids were asking me for food.

PETER

They might want some worms. They're asking their mom by saying

LISA, RYAN, NICOLE H. AND MELODY

tweet tweet tweet.

JAYDEN

Baby birds live in the nest where their mommy lives. They warm up from their mommies --

ANTHONY AND COLLIN

Their feathers get warm.

ISAAC AND ISABELLA

Then they learn to fly.

SEBASTIAN

I was flying in the air.

ANTHONY

I flapped my wings so fast I made a tornado.

JAYDEN

Cool, dude.

SEBASTIAN

Yeah, bro.

GILBERT

I see a cloud. I feel wild.

ANIAH

I see the cliffs. I feel the wind. I hear the waves, the ocean moving.

MAX G.

I see everything.

ABBAS

I ate a fish that was yummy in my tummy and my mom called me to watch my brother while she was gone.

TYLER

A bird's home is a nest. A kid's home is a house.

NICOLE

Me and my brother play the same games. He is five. I am six. Sometimes we fight and sometimes get along.

TYLER

My sister is nine and I am six. She is big. I am small. She teases me when I go to my abuelo's house.

MAX P.

I am flying to my home to see my mama.

SILAS

I could fly 1001 miles.

AALIANA

A bird learns how to fly. A bird learns how to land.

DAVID

First I was a baby.

MAX P.

Sit down, suck my thumb. Cry. Sleep.

RYAN

Then I was a toddler. I learned how to talk.

MELODY

Then I was a kid. I learned my ABCs. I learned my numbers.

PETER

Birds learn their tweetbers.

NICOLE H. AND LISA

Kids come from - I don't know.

ISAAC

A bird learns how to whistle.

ANTHONY

A kid learns to say dada.

SEBASTIAN

Learns to stand up for himself.

JAYDEN AND COLLIN

Learns to write.

ANTHONY AND ISABELLA

Makes new friends.

ABBAS

Me and Peter can do the same things, like karate, sword fighting and no check marks. We are different because Peter is not much of a talker.

MAX G.

The first time when I saw Tyler and I looked at him I freaked out, and I said

GILBERT

Can I be your friend?

MAX G.

and he said

TYLER

Yes.

ANIAH

When I met Ashley and Brooklyn, well, they were best friends. I wanted to squeeze in with them.

ALL

Last night I dreamed I was a bird.

MAX P.

I see the grass. I feel the wind.

AALIANA

I was looking for a home. I was looking for a perfect home.

SILAS

An egg is laid.

NICOLE

A bird learns how to tweet.

DAVID

A kid learns how to crawl.

RYAN

A bird learns...

PETER

A kid learns...

MELODY

Don't terrorize my cat.

ALL

Now I am seven.

TYLER

I learned what an idiom means and learned how to count by tens, 5s, 2s, 100s.

AALIANA

When I was a baby I was talking. When I was a toddler I learned how to walk. And look at me now.

ALL

I am flying.
